THE
BOOK OF NONSENSE

There was an Old Man with a beard, who said, "It is just as I feared!—
Two Owls and a Hen, four Larks and a Wren,
Have all built their nests in my beard!"

There was a Young Lady of Ryde, whose shoe-strings were seldom untied;
She purchased some clogs, and some small spotty dogs,
And frequently walked about Ryde.

"There was an Old Man with a nose,
That my nose is too long,
That remarkable Man with a nose,
who said, "If you choose to suppose,
you are certainly wrong!"

There was an Old Man on a hill, who seldom if ever, stood still ;
He ran up and down, in his Grandmother's gown,
Which adorned that Old Man on a hill,

There was a Young Lady whose bonnet, came untied when the birds sate upon it;
 But she said, "I don't care! all the birds in the air
 Are welcome to sit on my bonnet!"

There was a Young Person of Smyrna, whose Grandmother threatened to burn her ;
But she seized on the Cat, and said, "Granny, burn that !
You incongruous Old Woman of Smyrna !"

There was an Old Person of Chili, whose conduct was painfully silly;
He sate on the stairs, eating apples and pears
That imprudent Old Person of Chili.

There was an Old Man with a gong, who bumped at it all the day long;
But they called out, "O law! you're a horrid old bore!"
So they smashed that Old Man with a gong.

There was an Old Lady of Chertsey, who made a remarkable curtsy;
 She twirled round and round, till she sunk underground,
 Which distressed all the people of Chertsey.

It's a regular brute of a Bee!"

There was an Old Man in a tree, who was horribly bored by a Bee;
When they said, "Does it buzz?" he replied, "Yes, it does!
It's a regular brute of a Bec!"

There was an Old Man with a flute, a sarpint ran into his boot;
But he played day and night, till the sarpint took flight,
And avoided that man with a flute.

There was a Young Lady whose chin, resembled the point of a pin :
So she had it made sharp, and purchased a harp,
And played several tunes with her chin.
